CATHOLICS LIE TO THEMSELVES THAT THE SAINTS ARE MIRACULOUSLY PRESERVED EVEN WHEN THEIR EYES TELL THEM DIFFERENT

How and why the photos of the bodies of dead saints who have "miraculously" never decayed show how religion is prone to denying even what its eyes tell it and keeps lying to others

BELOW The most famous incorruptible of them all - St Bernadette of Lourdes. Her body was found to have stayed largely in one rigid piece and was coated with wax to make it look more natural

BELOW St Margaret of Cortona - a mummified body: in the 1980's it was discovered that her organs had been taken out and she had been embalmed and filled with preservative agents. The body has suture marks as a result of that process.

BELOW St Rita of Cascia - another mummified body

BELOW Saint Zita - is really a mummified body rather than an incorruptible

BELOW Saint Jacinta Marto - visionary of Fatima photographed 1951

BELOW St Teresa Margaret

BELOW Saint Virginia Centurione

BELOW Saint Maria Maddelina de Pazzi
