

Indecent Images

What is indecent to one person is not indecent to another.

What is very indecent to one is just a little indecent to another.

Religion tends to make people easily offended by sexual imagery. Religion undermines tolerance.

Religion does not mind showing graphic violence. People enjoy seeing it to some degree. If they hated it they would not look at it. Religion in its hypocrisy makes people more upset about nudity than violence. In so far as violence is cherished the person is a fan of it.
